

Rhea Brown creates extraordinary pieces of art

By Fan Minnitt

Rhea Brown and her daughter, Destiny, are registered with a modeling agency in Austin, Texas. Between the two of them, they have been featured in Farm Bureau and Allstate Insurance ads and have been extra's in a movie with Vanessa Hutchins, and in High School Musical. But that's not all that makes Brown a very busy and interesting woman. Brown, who resides in Killeen, Texas, is an extraordinary artist. Her art, which is faith based, includes murals, sculptures, family portraits, illustrations for books and CD's.

Rhea Brown

Brown was not always an artist, but she has always had the gift of creating art. As a matter of fact, her plan was to be a doctor. She received a full scholarship to Tuskegee University in Veterinarian Medicine in 1999 but decided to stay home with her daughter; however that decision was short lived. She was very ambitious. Brown returned to her first love — painting and

See BROWN, Page 2